ANNUAL BIGGEST & BEST VEGETABLE & FRUIT CONTEST

Thursday

September 9, 2010

4:00 p.m. - ‘til

Thursday, September 9, 2010 beginning at 4:00 p.m. the Evening Farmers Market’s will hold their Annual Biggest and Best Vegetable and Fruit Contest. Categories are:

BEST judged for quality: tomatoes, apples, cantaloupe, watermelon, winter squash or bell pepper

BIGGEST judged for size: tomato, watermelon, gourds, or pumpkins.

MOST UNUSUAL judged for most unusual shape of a vegetable or fruit

VEGGIE ART don’t despair if you have no entries for the biggest vegetable and fruit contest. Create a “Veggie Person” using smaller vegetables, fruits or flowers.

Enter this annual event, have some fun, win a prize. All entries must be submitted by 5:00 p.m. and judging will begin promptly. Certificates and prizes will be awarded.

Don’t miss our abundance of locally grown tomatoes, corn, squash, eggplant, sweet potatoes, watermelon, apples, cucumbers, peppers, fresh herbs, herb plants, eggs, freshly baked breads, jams, jellies, hand-made soaps and lotions, flower bouquets, all natural pet treats and more.....

For further information, please call Madge Eggena at 704-873-3361 or Carolyn Jordan at 704-873-7737.

Buy local! Support your local farmers. See you at the market!

The Evening Farmers Market is a non-profit group of area farmers, bakers, and crafters who present their products for sale for the convenience of early evening shopping at Pecan Park in historic downtown Statesville. Stop after work and enjoy a casual social setting, meet the vendors who are concerned with preserving family farm values.
